ARCTIC KEEPS IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH OUTSIDE WORLD

How science is speeding up travel in Arctic regions and keeping the land of the midnight sun in daily communication with the rest of the world, is told by Dr. J. A. Urquhart, who was visiting in Bassano last week-end with his sister, Mrs. A. E. Stewart.

Dr. Urquhart is Canadian Government physician stationed at Akivik. He has just come down by airplane from his northern post, and when he stopped in Bassano for three days was on his way to Ottawa to report in head office.

Traveling by airplane, dog team, or by boat, Dr. Urquhart travels thousands of miles every day in his work of healing the sick and injured in Canada's Arctic outposts.

Dr. Urquhart has spent two years in the Arctic, and he is returning to the north country near the end of November by the first plane fitted with skis to leave Edmonton. When the doctor last made the trip to Akivik it took him 33 days and a weary trip from Edmonton, but this fall, traveling by plane, he reached Edmonton in 14 hours, showing what modern mechanical transportation is doing to bring the Arctic in closer touch with the rest of Canada.

A powerful radio station is located at Akivik, and daily news of the world and musical programs are received from London, England, and from many Canadian and American broadcasting stations.

Aktivik is on the dividing line between the Indian territory on the south and the Yukon territory on the north. The doctor ministers to the needs of both peoples.

There are two hospitals at Aktivik, one an Anglican institution and the other a Catholic.

The doctor says the Eskimos are a fine, big, stalwart race of people, many of them standing about six feet in height and weighing two hundred pounds or more.

The northern Indian tribes are also a splendid physical race, and are of a higher mental plane than most of the southern tribes of Indians.

Dr. Urquhart practiced medicine in Hong Kong for four years, and became quite familiar with the Chinese and their language. He noticed a great similarity in many of the Eskimo words and those of the Chinese language.

LOCAL HUNTERS GET BIG BAG OF DUCKS

The largest bag of ducks so far reported this season was that obtained a few days ago by "Jimmy" Piersen, George Scott, and Allan Yale. These three started out early in the morning and returned with a bag of one afternoon's hunting north of Rosemary.

They were all large, plump birds, and the hunters distributed most of them among their friends.

The birds were hung all along one side of Jimmy's car and a photograph was taken of these fine trophies of the hunt.

TRUCK SERVICE STARTED

CALGARY TO BASSANO
A truck service from Calgary to Bassano and return was started this week by Mr. Brown, of Brown's Garage and Storage, Calgary. Joe Harris is the Bassano agent.

Mr. Brown makes a round trip from Calgary to Bassano every day, carrying express and freight of every description. Where the main highway is gravelled he intends extending the service to Duesch, Brooks, and Medicine Hat, and as business warrants he will put more trucks on the route.

Hussar News

HUSSAR, Oct. 25.—$107.99 was realized at the Ladies' Aid bazaar, sale of home cooking, and yard party on Friday evening. The hall was crowded. Cards were played at seventeen tables. Mrs. Legoux won first prize for ladies and Master Kenneth Brown was the gentleman's first prize. Great interest centered around the draw for the patchwork quilt made by the ladies of the Aid. Miss Frances Larson, teacher of Makepeace school, was the lucky winner. Little Joan Walters, also of Makepeace, won the beautiful doll contributed for the occasion by Miss A. Robinson. C. T. Armstrong proved a very efficient auctioneer when disposing of the home cooking and banner articles, as well as those of the surrounding country, as well as those of the village contributed very generously to help make the affair the success it was. Sincere thanks is extended to these, and to all who helped in any way.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Clark motored to Bassano on Thursday with their daughter Margaret, who had the misfortune to break her right arm when she fell from her pony that afternoon. Later they went to Calgary where she became an inmate of the Holy Cross Hospital. Mrs. Clark remained in Calgary in order to be near her daughter.

Word has just been received that Mr. L. O. Ladrange, who underwent a serious operation in the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, on Wednesday last, is doing as well as could be expected.

T. A. Hawkshaw motored to Bassano last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McDougall motored to Wetaskiwin on Tuesday.

SEB WALTZ FOUND DEAD IN HOME

Seb Waltz, who has resided in Bassano for a number of years, was found dead in his home in Bassano Thursday afternoon this week. His death is thought to be the cause of his death. He was 53 years of age, and unmarried.

Seb Waltz lived alone in the north end of town. He was last seen on Sunday last. Not seeing the man for several days, friends became concerned for his well being, and when the door of his home was found locked the police were notified. They broke in the door, and found the dead man lying across the table. In one hand he held a burned match, and in the other the shank of an oil lamp. Apparently he was in the act of lighting the lamp when he dropped dead.

2 GOOD PICTURES

"Love, Live and Laugh" George Jessel scored a tremendous triumph in his starring role for Morletine in "Love, Live and Laugh," which appears at the Orpheum Theatre, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the 3rd, 4th, and 5th of the week.

Playing a role of a young Italian immigrant who loses his American when he is embezzled in the World War and is reported killed, Jessel rises to dramatic heights that stamp him as one of the greatest character actors on the talking screen.

It is a highly sympathetic role that Jessel conveys, and he makes the most of every situation.

While primarily a poignant drama, "Love, Live and Laugh" has many light touches, the comedy drama which the versatile star demonstrates he is equally effective in the humorous aspects.

Sally Lee, as Jessel's sweetheart, turns in one of the most effective characterizations in her distinguished career, handling the dramatic scenes with Jessel with a restraint that made her role one of the high spots of the production.

"It's a Great Life" Some were person out at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer saw that there were real drama in a story which concerned what would happen if the famous Duncan Sisters should ever disagree and break up the team.

And so it is that "It's a Great Life," the first Duncan Sisters talking picture, which will be shown at the Orpheum Theatre, this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the 30th, 31st of October, and 1st of November, takes that situation and makes of it a very interesting story.

Director Sam Wood has made a human and realistic production out of the trials and tribulations of Casey Babo Hogan, and Jimmy Dean, the piano player whose interest in Bala, and quarrels with Casey, bring about the split-up.

The subsequent incident before their final reconciliation, provides a lot of suspense and interest.

"Children of Pleasure" is coming Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of next week. The true story of youth in the society's faster set. The surprising romance of a song writer and an actress.

Rosemary News

Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Iris attended church in Duesch last Sunday.

High Calibre of Talent Listed On Chautauqua Program

Four Days of Entertainment Open in Bassano Saturday Night

When Bassano people attend Chautauqua Saturday this week, and next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, they will be entertained by one of the best Chautauqua programs that has ever been presented in the west.

In the Lowell Patton troupe is a group of artists who have an enviable reputation as entertainers and who are going to New York to perform when their Chautauqua tour is completed. These artists have a truly wonderful program of song and music.

The Martin Erwin Players, who play the opening night with that great comedy, "Turn to the Right," have been seen before on the Chautauqua circuit, and their histrionic ability is well known wherever Chautauqua goes.

The Martin Erwin Players will be seen again on the last night of the program in another comedy hit, "The Patzy." Private Paul, writer, lecturer, and student of world affairs, has an important message in his lecture on world peace. He is a most interesting and convincing talker, and will be well worth hearing.

The Elias Tamburitis Sereaders on the third night, bring a program of song and music from Jago Javla. They appear in native costume, and in addition to their native songs and musical numbers, they sing and play standard popular and classical numbers of the country.

The full program is as follows:
First Day
Evening, "Turn to the Right," Martin Erwin Players.
Second Day
Afternoon, Unusual Specials, Lowell Patton Artists.
Evening, Grand Concert: Lowell

THRESHING NOW NEARLY FINISHED

Fine Weather All Week Favours Threshing Operations

With a week of favorable weather farmers have made great strides in their work of threshing the 1939 crop. If the good weather continues threshing will be finished within a few days in the irrigation areas where crops were cut with the blower. In northern areas around the thortly district the work is not so far advanced, and it will require another week to clean up all the fields of stocks.

Some very fine crops of wheat were raised on irrigated land this year, and yields of 40 bushels to the acre are frequently heard of.

Wheat prices have undergone slight changes during the past week. The closing prices on the Winnipeg market today, Thursday, were: No. 1 Northern, cash, 72 1/2; October, 72 1/2; November, 72 1/2; December, 72 1/2; May, 78 1/4.

Outside interest in wheat is still indifferent, and there is only a slight demand from overseas. The Argentine crop is reported to be affected by rust.

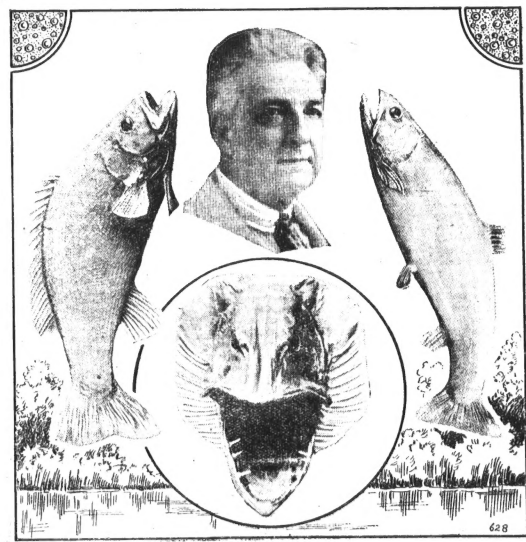

Patton Artists.

Third Day
Afternoon, Gals Entertainment, The Elias Tamburitis Sereaders.
Evening, Musical Review, Tamburitis Sereaders; Lecture, "The Inescapable Lie," Private Paul.
Fourth Day
Evening, "The Patzy," Martin Erwin Players.

The afternoon program commences at 2:00 p.m., and the evening programs at 8:00 p.m.

Season tickets may be obtained from many ticket sellers, and reserve seats are on sale at McKee's Store for 50 cents. The cost covers the complete program of two afternoons and four evenings.

Championship Fish from Ontario Waters

Results are out for the three major fishing competitions held in Ontario each year at French River, Nipigon River, and Devil's Gap. Each winner was awarded a framed certificate signed by the judges of the contest, and were given gold lapel buttons. Fishing was exceptionally good this year in these sections and the winners were up against the stiffest kind of competition.

Lake-of-the-Woods, four pounds, 1 1/2 ounces in weight, just over 21 inches long and 18 1/2 inches in girth. It fell to the rod of J. C. Jones, of St. Louis, Mo. Each winner was awarded a framed certificate signed by the judges of the contest, and were given gold lapel buttons. Fishing was exceptionally good this year in these sections and the winners were up against the stiffest kind of competition.

What Does Your Work Mean To You?

Trans-Canada Highway

In the current issue of a well-known magazine there is an article, bearing the title "Do You Ever Get Off On the Wrong Foot?" which discusses the problems of people who at some stage in their career come to the conclusion that they are super people in round holes. In a word, that they do not fit, that they have made a mistake in the choice of their business occupation or professional calling, and, as a result, are not making the progress they feel they should make and their abilities entitle them to make.

On the other hand, a daily newspaper is at present running a series of short sketches of men who in their boyhood of early manhood had ambitions about certain lines, but circumstances, environment, fate, call it what you will, decided otherwise, and instead of being what in those other days they "wanted to be," they have achieved success in radically different walks of life.

In this present period of world-wide depression, a temporary period when we are for the first time feeling and suffering the real aftermath of the Great War, doubtless many people are asking themselves the question, "Have I got off on the wrong foot? Am I a square peg in a round hole?" Should I make a change, abandon the business, trade or profession in which I am or have been engaged and try something new and different?

Usually at the time farmers particularly may be inclined to indulge in such questioning as they contemplate the many vicissitudes which agriculture has undergone during the past two years as a result of climatic conditions, marketing difficulties, and a selling price for their products below the actual cost of production. The present outlook may not look promising to them any more than it does to the wage-earner. The question, however, which both classes must consider is whether, after all, any change would be better.

For example, if the man engaged in agriculture really likes farming and a rural life, and that degree of independence resulting from the fact that he is his own boss, preferring these to the limitations of a salaried position in town or city, the paid servant of others, and breathing the air of congested centres of population, then he has not made a mistake; he is not a misfit. Nor is the city man in the wrong place if on his part the general life and activities of the farm and the less strenuous life of rural communities makes no appeal to him.

Possibly in both city and country, and with men in all occupations and callings in life, some part at least of their dissatisfaction with their own condition is to be found in their failure to fully grasp all the opportunities of their present vocation.

In the magazine article to which reference has already been made, the story is told of a man in middle life, who, dissatisfied with his position and the progress he was making, came to the parting of the ways. An orphan, forced to make his way at the age of thirteen, he took a humble position in a food commission warehouse. In course of time he became a salesman, acquired a family and a house worth four thousand dollars, and at forty-two was working long hours every day for any dollars a week. An opportunity presented itself to become produce manager in a newly organized business at fifty dollars a week, but he was required to invest two thousand in the business. He mortgaged his house to raise the money, and took on the new job. But the promoter of the business was inexperienced, and in ten months it failed, with the result that this man lost his money and ruined his health by worry. He then took stock of "himself." He realized he knew a little about a whole lot of things, but did not know everything, and he was to know about any one of them. So, on the advice of a friend, this man went back to his old job and worked two years more during which time he made close and expert study of one particular vegetable for which there was an all-year-round demand. He learned where the best varieties were grown, and by whom; refrigerating methods; packing methods; costs; who bought that particular variety of vegetable; ways to use it; everything. Then he launched into business, rented a small, second-hand delicatessen, and sold that one particular vegetable. Today he heads a huge and profitable business and is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The point is just this: Is the dissatisfied agriculturist farming in any old way in his hope of making money, or is he doing so with a purpose and not; using any kind of scrub cattle, indifferent breeds of poultry, or other farm stock? Is the dissatisfied city artisan, clerk, or business man, just drifting along, doing what comes to his hand, without giving much heed to the method of doing it? Is the carpenter, for instance, content to be merely a "saw and hammer" man instead of studying and striving to become efficient and an expert in his work? Is the merchant plodding along line of least resistance, but making no mental effort to study the requirements of his particular field and the needs, even the fads, of his customers?

In a word, are we treating our present occupations of life merely and solely as a means of physical existence in life, or are we finding some real pleasure and satisfaction in the work itself? If the former is our approach to our work we will be half-wild, and will, in the end, find ourselves, and ultimate failure will result. If, on the other hand, the work itself is merely something to us, and we take a keen interest in it, study it and its possibilities, constantly striving for the improvement, then satisfaction will result, leading to contentment and a reasonable measure of success.

While there are exceptions to the general rule, that general rule is that it is not so much the nature of the work in which we are engaged that counts, as our attitude towards that work which makes for dissatisfaction and failure on the one hand or satisfaction and ultimate success on the other hand.

Lake Superior Route Is Advocated As Opposed To More Northern Road

Advocates of the Lake Superior shore route to clear the gap in the proposed Trans-Canada Highway, placed their case before the Ontario Government as represented by Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, and Hon. George Henry, acting prime minister, and were promised consideration of their case.

An alternative route has been strongly urged by other northern Ontario municipalities, a route designated as the northern Ontario overland, or Cochrane route. More than 100 delegates from the head of the Lakes and the Sault district were in the delegation.

J. W. Curran, of the Sault District Star, and I. E. Wright, of Englehart, president of the Northern Associated Boards of Trade, discussed the two routes. Mr. Curran as a proponent of lake shore, and Mr. Wright for those favoring the Cochrane route.

They reached a decision, said Mr. Curran, that a joint information conference should be held between the respective sections with a view of arriving at an agreement satisfactory to both, which could be submitted to the government and thus enable it to start work immediately.

The informal conference proposed would comprise three or four members of each section of opinion and in the event of an agreement being reached, it would then be sent back to the respective bodies for ratification.

Ready-Made Medicine. You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Williams' Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, it is invaluable. For scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, it is unsurpassed. For cuts, sores and the like, it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonials, and it will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

Old Milestone Found

Supposed To Indicate Distance From Chiappa, Italy To Rome

Quite recently a most interesting discovery was made in Chiappa, Italy. Deep excavations there have brought to light an old marble milestone. On the stone could still be distinguished the marking of 553 miles and the name of Augustus Caesar. Presumably the stone indicated the distance from that spot to Rome, and formed part of the old road running between Rome and the Gallic countries, and known then as the Aurea Viata.

Winter Holiday Trips

Canadian Pacific Offers Special Inducements To The Winter Traveller

Sharp stimulus to winter travel in Western Canada this year is forecast by Canadian Pacific Railway officials in Winnipeg, chief among the contributing factors being the many special trains arranged to connect with special sailings to the Old Country for Christmas and New Year. While this rail movement will be easy, there are also many interesting winter features in store for an annually bring thousands of easterners, Canadians and Americans, to the winter playground of the northwest.

The Banff Carnival is now known all over the civilized world, and another western winter sporting event that has become firmly fixed on the calendar is the mid-winter golf tournament, sponsored by the Canadian Pacific Hotel, at Victoria, capital City of British Columbia.

This tournament, started in 1928, enters its third year this February, when, from February 23 to 28, a host of golfers will gather in the Pacific Northwest in quest of the Beatty challenge trophy. The tournament is being held this season at the Oak Bay course of the Victoria Golf Club, where all-winter golf has been the feature attraction of Vancouver Island's evergreen playground.

As a special inducement to winter travellers, low round-trip fares have been named by the Company to Eastern Canada and Central States, commencing December 1st and to the Pacific Coast during December, January and part of February. These tickets are considerably lower than the ordinary fare and last for a much longer limit.

The Aeroplane and Geodesy

Problem Of Survey Work In Remote Districts Has Been Solved

The aeroplane has solved one of the problems of the Geodesic Survey of Canada. In those districts where are traversed by neither road nor railway, travel is slow and at times almost impossible. Obstruction is met everywhere in measuring the points in the great triangle of north-west which is gradually covering the whole of the Dominion. By means of the aeroplane, these difficulties have been at last solved.

UTTERLY WORN OUT

Women Weakened By Worry

"I don't want to worry, but I can't help it," said a woman recently when told to take things easy and not let the daily duties wear her down to save her strength. If she finds herself getting fed up, worried, or feels utterly worn out, suffers over-irritation and frequently has nervous troubles, she will be wise to realize her nervous system needs attention.

To feed the nerves you must build up the blood. To do this there is nothing to equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills not only enrich the blood, but create new blood which feeds and strengthens the nerves and banishes the cause of nervous disorders.

Women cannot always rest when they are worried, but every woman can maintain her strength by the help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills will be submitted to the government and thus enable it to start work immediately. The informal conference proposed would comprise three or four members of each section of opinion and in the event of an agreement being reached, it would then be sent back to the respective bodies for ratification.

Russia Is Selling

Soviets Take That Method To Raise Money For Treasury

Soviet dumping of wheat, and other products abroad at a time when the supplies are urgently needed in Russia itself is in the nature of "tax" collection under the Russian system, says the Financial Post, which continues:

For Soviet Russia, the word taxation has no such meaning as Western minds attach to it. Holding private ownership to be unethical, the government itself is officially the owner of all property. Consequently, there is none for it to tax. Proclaiming private profits to be opposed to human welfare, it officially permits the accumulation of no incomes which might be taxed. It is obliged, therefore, to obtain its revenue from the actual products of the mines, forests, and farms which it operates or to take as taxes the produce of those who still operate privately—mainly the unaccustomed peasants. But since it cannot operate a treasury directly with wheat and lumber, it must sell these articles in the outside world.

It is what it is doing to the extent of leaving its own people on the verge of starvation. Officially they are permitted to eat only what is produced by the government, and the heavy purchase of machinery abroad mean that the very lowest limit of supplies.

Canadian Trade Office For Egypt

Dominion Has 34 Trade Commissioners In Different Parts Of The World

A new Canadian Government Trade Commissioner's office is to be opened at Cairo, Egypt. The territory of this new office, which will open some time next December, includes Egypt, the Sudan, Palestine, Cyprus, Syria, Iraq and Persia.

When the Canadian Trade Commissioner takes over at Cairo, Canada will have 34 trade commissioners in different parts of the world and a commercial agent at Sydney, Australia. These commissioners will be under the Commercial Intelligence Service of the Canadian Government Department of Trade and Commerce, which is designed to further the interests of Canadian trade in all parts of the world. The trade commissioners make political reports upon trade and financial conditions in their respective territories and keep Canadian manufacturers and others advised concerning opportunities for the sale of Canadian products. Canada's foreign trade in 1929 was $226 per capita, the highest in the world.

Turner Valley Oil

Seven Thousand Acres Unlikely Proved As Large Producer Of Gas and Oil

Following a tour of the Turner Valley oil field, A. Beby Thompson, a member of the British Council of Petroleum Technologists, declared that the 7,000 acres of that terrain had been definitely proved as a large producer of gas and oil. Production, he said, at the beginning of the oil era, amounted to 3,000,000 barrels of a value of $100,000, the present rate of production being about 3,500 barrels per day from about 60 wells.

A Distinguished Albertan

Hon. Irene Parby, An Interesting Personality At League Of Nations Meeting

One of the most interesting personalities who attended the recent meeting of the Council of the League of Nations at Geneva, Switzerland, was Hon. Irene Parby, of Alx, Alberta, without portfolio in the Alberta Government. Mrs. Parby was a member of the Canadian delegation headed by Sir Robert L. Borden, former Prime Minister of Canada. She was born in London, England, and her father was a colonel in the British Army. At the age of 28 she came to Alberta to visit friends on a ranch. While there she met W. C. Parby, an Englishman, graduate of Oxford University, and was married to him in 1887. They began farming and since then Mrs. Parby has been one of the most active workers in the interests of women in Alberta. Nine years ago she was elected to the Alberta Legislature on the United Farmers of Alberta platform and since then has been a member of the Cabinet.

Her Two Children Had Summer Complaint

Mrs. J. J. MacDonald, Glace Bay, N.S., writes—

"I am the mother of six children, and would not be without a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the house. My two youngest were very sick with summer complaint and there was nothing I tried could equal that remedy, and I had tried most everything, but they could get no relief. Dr. Fowler's made change in both of them in less than two hours."

Decline In Number Of Assisted Migrants From British Isles

London, England.—There has been a pronounced decline in the number of assisted migrants who have left the shores of Britain for the Dominions in the last four years, according to figures submitted to the overseas settlement committee of the Imperial Conference. The less attractive economic conditions to be found in the Dominions in the last year or so, was largely blamed for the drop.

State-aided migration to Canada in 1927 totalled 27,615 persons, while 29,138 went to Australia and 4,446 to New Zealand. Last year 21,615 migrants went to Canada, 13,626 to Australia and 1,949 to New Zealand. Of the three countries, it will be seen that Canada suffered least by the drop. It is explained further, that 27,000 additional persons went to Canada in 1929 under the temporary rate, which really results in an acceleration rather than a decrease in the Canada-ward trend.

Today said the Imperial Conference committees approaching the end of their task. A number of them are now entering the draft report stage and have cleared away routine work. The arbitration and disarmament committee, under Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor-General of Canada, concluded its discussion of the British draft disarmament treaty submitted to the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations. It was announced recently that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, of Great Britain, was holding informal personal conversations with the prime minister of the Dominion of Newfoundland in an endeavor to smooth the path towards a successful conclusion of the Imperial Conference.

Embargo On War Munitions

President Hoover Will Not Permit Shipment of Arms To Brazilian Rebels

Washington, D.C.—President Hoover has issued a proclamation placing an embargo on the shipment of millions of war to Brazil except for the Federal Government at Rio de Janeiro. In taking this action, the president acted upon the request of Sir Gurgel Do Amaral, Brazilian ambassador, and lined up the United States Government definitely against the rebel forces in the southern republic. "Until this proclamation was issued," the Brazilian revolutionaries were free to procure arms and munitions in the United States from private manufacturers. So far as the state department is advised, however, the shipments have actually been sent to the rebels.

While secretary Stimson declared the Brazilian ambassador as optimistic, the fact that his government requested an embargo on the shipment of arms to the rebels was generally construed as indicating that the authorities at Rio de Janeiro recognize that the uprising constitutes a serious threat to the Federal Government.

Sir Arthur Currie To Visit British India

Chosen As Canada's Representative At Inauguration Ceremonies Of New Delhi

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion Government has requested General Sir Arthur Currie, commander-in-chief of the Canadian forces during the war, to represent Canada at the ceremonies in connection with the inauguration of New Delhi as the capital of British India and the opening of the new government buildings there. General Currie has accepted the invitation and will undertake the mission.

Nurses Save Child's Life
Belleville, Ill.—Nurses at St. Elizabeth Hospital attending in two-hour relays with a finger pressed tightly against an incision in the external jugular vein of Josephine Jarvis, 9, of Lehigh, Ill., successfully have saved the little girl's life. Flying glass from the windshield of the Jarvis car, driven by her mother, pierced the vein and a branch of the facial artery, when the Jarvis car and another collided.

Postpone Return Flight

Capt. Errol Boyd Will Not Attempt Trip This Year

London, England.—Captain J. Errol Boyd and Lieutenant Harry J. Connor, who were planning to make a return flight across the Atlantic next month, have definitely postponed the attempt until next spring. The two men who flew to England from Hartford, Conn., 10 days ago, had been planning to use their monoplane "Columbia" for the first round-trip Atlantic attempt. When the airman eventually make the return flight they will do so as owners of the "Columbia," for Sherwin Cottingham, aviation enthusiast in Montreal, has bought the veteran plane from Charles A. Levine and presented it to Boyd and Connor on condition that they do not fly the Atlantic again this year.

Boyd and Connor plan to sail for Canada, October 21, returning to England in the spring.

DISCUSS QUESTION OF VITAL MOMENT TO PROVINCES

London, England.—Before the Imperial Conference commences, Lord Sankey, Lord High Chancellor, Canada, is making a stand for provincial rights. Hon. Maurice Dupre, Canadian Solicitor-General, supporting the views held by Premier Ferguson and Tachereau, on Ontario and Quebec respectively, holds the provinces must first be consulted before any amendments can be made to the British North America Act.

The question arose in the consideration by the committee of the recommendations of the 1929 conference on operations of dominion laws. In effect, the Canadian delegates' stand pursued to its logical conclusion would lead to an interprovincial conference or some other mode of consultation before final action on the report of the 1929 conference.

The 1929 conference, composed of legal experts from the various dominions, was a belated aftermath of the status resolutions of the 1926 Imperial Conference. The 1929 gathering studied the conflicts in Dominion legislation and British statute law and finally recommended an Imperial act to pass nullifying the effect of the Colonial Laws Validity Act.

Critics of these recommendations claim they go further than mere repeal of the Colonial Laws Validity Act, that in effect they authorize an amendment to the Canadian constitution. Premier Ferguson and Tachereau both took the ground that as Canadian confederation was a pact between the provinces, the constitution cannot be amended without the consent of the provinces. Hon. Maurice Dupre is understood to be supporting this view in the committee deliberations.

How the provinces are to be consulted has not yet been determined. There is a belief that the principle and precedent involved in the matter are of greater importance than the actual issues at stake.

Lake Winnipeg Tragedy
Two Fishermen Drown When They Leaped From Burning Tug Boat
Winnipeg, Man.—From the blazing deck of the tug "Magnus," four fishermen leaped into the chill waters of Lake Winnipeg near Gimli. Two were drowned, half-dead, from the icy water by another tug which rushed to the rescue. The "Magnus" sank after a gasoline explosion shattered the craft from stem to stern.

The dead, Captain William Bjarnson, Engineer Joe Bell, and the injured, Captain J. H. Gifford, summoned by frenzied boatsmen from the ill-fated "Magnus," were saved, surviving members of the crew. Captain Bjarnson and Engineer Bell have not been recovered. The tug, taken with fishing supplies for the winter, will be a total loss.

The "Magnus," owned by the Armstrong-Gimli Fisheries Company, was northbound for the fishing waters at the far end of Lake Winnipeg. The tug, laden with fishing supplies for the winter, will be a total loss.

Forming Farm Boards

Prairie Provinces Stand Ready To Help Farmers Flungrily

Winnipeg, Man.—All three prairie provinces stand ready to assist western farmers in their financial predicament brought on by low prices of grain and livestock. Saskatchewan has had a debt-adjustment bureau in force for some time and Manitoba now has set up a parallel board to aid needy farmers and to effect fair distribution of credit and collections. The newest entry into the list is Alberta's agricultural development board, whose formation has been announced.

Time Is Extended
Edmonton, Alberta.—Hon. Dr. William Egbert will be lieutenant-governor of Alberta until April 3, 1930.

His Honor has received notice from Ottawa that his five-year term, which expired in October, had been extended. He was asked to continue in office owing to Premier Bennett's absence in England, and has consented to do so.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLYER

Capt. J. Errol Boyd, Toronto flier, who with Harry Connor, United States aviator, successfully flew the Atlantic in aeroplane "Columbia," but who was forced down in the Gulf wall from engine trouble, just a few miles of their ultimate goal—Croydon.

British Airship Workers Worried

Disaster To R-101 May Mean Reduction In Staff

Cardington, England, English "hundred-ton" airship R-101, which was here and their families are undergoing an anxious time pending development of the future of airship development following the disaster to the R-101.

Officials of the works met secretly and the fact they also knew their conclusions, if any, to themselves, served to increase the apprehension. It is rumored there is a proposal to cut labor down by 20 per cent immediately and, in the circumstances, the workers are profoundly anxious to see an early announcement of the official air ministry inquiry into the R-101 disaster delay in which is beginning to result in newspaper criticism.

Customary Two Minutes Silence

People Requested To Mark Anniversary Day As Usual

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada will observe the customary two-minute silence of the Armistice Day of November 11, Tuesday, November 11. The following statement in respect to it, has been issued from the office of the Prime Minister. "In accordance with arrangements for the observance of Armistice Day, sanctioned by His Majesty the King, the people of Canada are invited to mark the occasion by a two-minute silence at 11 o'clock on Tuesday November 11, 1930."

AT IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

A well known Canadian Dr. G. I. Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont., and a director of the International Live Stock Exposition is in charge of the International Grain and Hay Show. Through him Canada will be invited to send a judge of the small grain classes. The Grain and Hay Show will also have the active support of the various Canadian provincial governments and the provincial departments of agriculture.

Added incentive for Canadian farmers to participate in the 1930 International Grain and Hay Show will be generous cash prizes offered to Canadian winners by the Canadian Co-Operative Wheat Producers, Limited, the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the governments of Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. To the Alberta winners a great champion pig in either hogs or oats, the Calgary Board of Trade offers a cash prize to the winner of a sheep car race to the 1931 International Live Stock Show.

B. H. Hyde, secretary of the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, says: "Growers should not be discouraged from taking part in this year's show. As the quality of their samples owing to unfavorable growing conditions last season, which since the situation is general to the North American continent, will, I believe be generally reflected in most of the samples submitted."

Shamrock Reaches Home

Battered With Bad Weather and Heavy Seas All the Way Across

Southampton, Eng.—Battered by terrific seas encountered on her way to the Atlantic, the "Shamrock V," arrived minus her original steering wheel which was washed away when she was 24 hours out of Bristol, Rhode Island.

Captain William Greenock, who brought the America's Cup challenge home, said that the yacht ran into bad weather practically all the way over. At times the boat was held to a standstill.

"It was no pleasure cruise," he said. "I don't think the weather could have been more unkind for our struck a bad patch just after leaving America."

The Shamrock will be taken to a shipyard for the winter. All aboard were reported well.

Asking Six-Hour Day

Railroad Men Want Shorter Hours With Same Rate Of Pay

Cleveland, Ohio.—The seven railroad labor unions of Canada and the United States have taken the leadership of organized labor in the movement seeking a six-hour working day without reduction of wages.

Officials of the railroad unions estimated that the proposed six-hour day would put to rest 50,000 men now employed in the railroad industries.

The campaign for the shorter working day will be planned in detail by representatives of the railroad unions in Chicago, Nov. 12.

CANADA TO BE REPRESENTED AT CHICAGO SHOW

Chicago, Ill.—Canada is again expected to make an impressive showing in the International Grain and Hay Show, to be held at Chicago, November 29 to December 6, in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition. Already entries are being received, some from the most distant parts of the earth. Three samples of wheat have arrived from New South Wales, according to the management.

Distinction for having made the first entry in the eye and nose classes of the exposition this year goes to a Saskatchewan grower. The first entry in the eye and nose classes of the 1929 exposition, Durr's sample ranked high.

Other successful Canadian exhibitors at the last year's exposition, who are expected to take part this year, were George Avery of Kelso, Sask., who had reserve championship on a two-year-old barley sample at the 1929 show; W. C. Gibson of Ladner, B.C., a breeder of "crack" cattle; Laura, Sask., who had champion and reserve champion respectively on field peas; Joseph H. B. Smith of Fort St. John, Alta., who had champion on field peas; and J. J. Lacombe of Athabasca, Alberta, who won a blue on an early oats sample, and many other provincial exhibitors whose samples placed creditably high in the competition.

Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont., and a director of the International Live Stock Exposition is in charge of the International Grain and Hay Show. Through him Canada will be invited to send a judge of the small grain classes. Early Winter Is Hard On Aviators

Surprise Blizzard Caught Pilots and Passengers Off Guard

Prince Albert, Sask.—October surprise blizzard caught the R.C.A.F. aviators and pilots and mechanics at Ladder Lake air base laboring after waist-deep in icy water to extricate four flying boats, including the huge twin-engine 14A passenger Vickers-Vancouver, from the ice of the lake. Usually the aircraft are towed to Winnipeg headquarters for the winter, but this year the machines will have to be beached and left until spring.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 7
NIMON PETER—FROM WEAKNESS TO STRENGTH

Golden Text: "Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, and they beheld that they had been with Jesus." Act 4:13.

Lesson: Matt. 8:27-34; Luke 22:31-34; John 18:27-34; 21:15-17.

Explanations and Comments
The Great Atonement, Mark 8:27-34. Jesus suddenly asked His disciples when they were on the way to Caesarea Philippi, "John the Baptist," they answered, "Herod the tetrarch had slain him." Herod the tetrarch had slain him. "But who said that I am?" Jesus asked. "That man who said that I am?" Jesus asked. "That man who said that I am?" Jesus asked. "That man who said that I am?" Jesus asked.

Grain Grading High

Northern Wheat Grades Good Average After the Rain

Prince Albert, Sask.—Grain, threshed before the blizzard, is grading high at local elevators contrary to expectations of some of the most optimistic. At the Pool elevator a number of No. 2 Northern samples averaging No. 2 Northern. Wheat from well-stocked crops, it is estimated, will be assured of a No. 2 average.

Elevator officials estimate the average has been No. 3 and that this will be maintained after threshing is resumed. Garnet is holding firm at No. 2 Northern and No. 2 average.

Automobile Production Down

Fewer Cars Produced In September Than In Month Before

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada produced fewer automobiles in September than in this month, it was shown in a report published recently by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The total was 7,567 cars, being 19 per cent lower than for August, and 42 per cent lower than for September, 1929.

Likewise production figures for the first nine months of the year showed substantial reductions over 1929 totals. To the end of September, Canadian plants produced 138,621 cars, compared with 233,835 for the same period last year. This reduction amounts to 41 per cent.

Will Open Textile Mills

English Firms Would Bring Own Workers To Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—Admission to Canada of a limited number of skilled textile workers is being sought by English firms. One firm has purchased a textile plant at Carleton Place, Ont. The mill, which has been closed for some time, will be reopened shortly and will employ 300 hands.

The company wishes to bring from its home plant about 20 people. They are not to be affected by possible woolen coatings and other cloth of a kind never before made in this country.

Threshing Resumed

Edmonton, Alberta.—Another good crop of wheat in Alberta will be registered if weather permits, in the opinion of Hon. George Howley, Minister of Agriculture. Threshing is well advanced in the more fertile localities, as indicated by reports to the department, and if sufficient sunshine continues.

This was in addition to the regular duty of one cent under the old treaty tariff, which expired on October 12, and represented approximately $16,000 added import on the 2,000,000 pounds of butter in the big shipment which arrived just in time to avoid the new duty of 8 cents a pound.

Local butter importers who have conferred with Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, during his visit here, explain that the dump duty was assessed when it was discovered that the invoice price of the butter was the fifth of a cent less than the fair market price in New Zealand at the time of shipment, as advised by the Canadian Trade Commission in New Zealand.

Under the new dumping clause the customs department may assess on duty equal to the difference between invoice price and fair market price in the country of origin, but only up to 50 per cent of the fair market price of a fixed price set by the Minister of National Revenue. In this case the dump duty was excessive, but not affected by possible market fluctuations while the butter is in transit.

A conference with the minister was arranged that in future the Canadian Trade Commissioner in New Zealand will advise the customs department of the fair market price of a fixed price set by the Minister of National Revenue. In this case the dump duty was excessive, but not affected by possible market fluctuations while the butter is in transit.

WED POLICY
 NEEDED

A new menace is looming up on the agricultural horizon in Alberta. It is weeds.

Weeds have been the cause of considerable annoyance to Alberta farmers for years. Now they constitute a serious menace to the agricultural industry.

How serious the situation is right now may be realized in a report from Lethbridge that seventy-five per cent of the cultivated land there must be summer-fallowed next year because it is so infested with weeds it will be impossible to grow a crop on it next year.

In Manitoba weeds have caused a tremendous reduction in the yield and quality of wheat, and in some areas many farms have been abandoned because of the weed hog.

Every year the weed problem of Alberta is becoming greater and more difficult to cope with. There is need legislation on the statutes of Alberta, and the provincial Department of Agriculture must adopt more effective measures if Alberta farmers are to be saved from the weed menace.

THE SATURDAY NIGHT CLOSING HOUR

The stores of Bassano are in the habit of remaining open till nearly midnight on Saturdays. This is just a practice and not a necessity, for all the customers could be served and the stores closed by ten o'clock.

Long people have their Saturday night shopping until after ten o'clock. It is just a habit. They know the stores are open till nearly midnight, so the customers wait until a late hour, or if they do their shopping early they often leave their purchases in the store until the closing hour near midnight.

The customers could just as easily and conveniently do this before ten o'clock.

Clocks and storekeepers would welcome a ten o'clock closing hour. From 8 a.m. Saturday till nearly midnight is a long day. It is even a long day if the stores were to close at 10 p.m. From 8 a.m. till 10 p.m. is long enough to expect anybody to work. It is quite unnecessary to work any longer.

Hardly, the merchants could save money on their electric light accounts if the stores closed two hours earlier on Saturday nights. This is a matter worth considering in these days when all of us, particularly those who have large outstanding accounts, find it necessary to keep expenses down to a low figure.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK AHEAD

A note of optimism for Canadian agricultural and industrial enterprise is sounded in the Royal Bank of Canada monthly letter for October.

Hope for the Canadian cattle industry is seen in the shipping of cattle to the British Isles. In dealing with this subject the letter reads:

"During the past few weeks shipments of live cattle from Canada to Great Britain have been resumed after a lapse of three years. This trade was at one time an important outlet for the Canadian livestock industry. Increasing demand and higher prices in the markets of the U. S. & diverted these exports, and shipments overseas ceased. The initial shipments of the past few weeks have been cattle from eastern Canada, but a trial shipment of western cattle is being made from Montreal about the end of October, and there is a sound basis for the hope that western cattle can be finished for this trade at a profit."

Still more encouraging is the outlook for hog raising. The demand for hogs in Great Britain has grown at an amazing rate, imports growing from 626 million pounds in 1921, to more than 900 million pounds in each of the last three years. Most of the additional supplies have come from Denmark.

Canadian shipments are about the same as they were forty years ago. With feed grain selling at such a low figure and a huge potential market for hogs in Great Britain, it is quite reasonable to hope for greater prosperity in the hog industry.

TAKE A CHANCE
 (by Ted Olson)
 I have little love for the man who goes
 Through life in the rut of a daily grind.
 Who follows a pathway set; he those
 Who carved a way where he trails behind;
 A man who dreams of success afar,
 But fears the odds in the sporting name
 Of hitching his wagon to a star
 And taking a chance on a wider fame.
 Take a chance! It will make you or break you!
 Take a chance! Face it out with a smile,
 And though to defeat it may take you.
 You'll find that the sport is worth while.
 You can't know your strength till you try it
 In a fight with malign circumstances;
 You won't reach the top or come nigh it
 Till you heed that refrain: Take a chance!
 Take a chance! Mistress Fortune is fickle,
 But a sportsman's the man for her eye;
 Back the game with your loneliest nicker,
 Go your hardest—and never say die!

die;
 You may lose—but it's fun every minute.
 If your blood has one drop of romance;
 The game's worth just what you put in it;
 Make it big by just taking a chance.

He Came from Aberdeen
 A young candidate for parliament endeavoring to please his audience, began his address thus:
 "Ladies and gentlemen—Thank God I was born English; I will live as an Englishman, and die as an Englishman."
 "Gentlemen from the rear: 'Mon, mon! Har ye nae imbonnet!'"

The Buckle
 The vicar was inquiring of one of his flock why he had not been to church for several Sundays.
 "Well you see, sir," said the man unctuously, "I've been troubled with a busion on my foot."
 "Strange," commented the parson, "that a busion should impede the pilgrim's progress."

MOVING 3,000 REINDEER

The herd of three thousand reindeer purchased by the Canadian Government from an American car-penter in Alaska in 1929 will, by the end of the month, resume its journey eastward toward Kitigaavik, in the delta of the Mackenzie River, Northwest Territories of Canada. The reindeer began the 1,600 mile journey from Napaktok, in western Alaska, to Kitigaavik in December last year, and halted at Hunt River, Alaska, for the summer season. It is expected that the herd will reach their intended destination early in the spring of 1931. This herd has been purchased by the Canadian Government Northwest Territories and Yukon Branch to be the nucleus of an additional food and clothing supply for the Eskimo living in the extreme northern area of Canada. Preparations for the reception of the reindeer have been going forward rapidly. The timber and lumber for the buildings, corrals and other equipment have been moved to the site selected on the northern thousand square mile range east of the Mackenzie river, and everything will be in readiness when the reindeer arrive.

"No," Bob panted, in reply; "that there 'ouse belongs to Grabbe—the law lawyer bloke, yer know?"

"Old Grabbe's 'ouse?" Bill exclaimed in horror. "Did yer lose any-thing?"

New Spanish Stamp Issue Commemorates Discovery of America

The Spanish postal authorities have brought out a new issue of stamps to commemorate the discovery of America by that great Spanish explorer, Christopher Columbus.

The new stamps are of varied design, shape, and color, and are issued in many denominations. They will make a desirable addition to anyone's stamp collection.

On several of the stamps is an excellent image of the head of Columbus, and on others are depicted the departure of the explorer's ship on his westward voyage to the new world, and also a scene ashore on the newly discovered land.

Those who desire to obtain a set of the new stamps may do so by writing to Senor Don Eduardo Navarro, Calle del Novellado, 14, principal, Madrid - 8, Spain.

Rust Resistant Wheat

Regina: In a technical but practical way experts of both the Dominion and provincial departments of agriculture have been constantly to the fur in an endeavor to solve the many problems with which the farmer is confronted in the production of crops. The farmer himself has rendered valuable assistance and the fight against the ravages of weeds, parasites, and insect plagues, successfully, resulting in continuous. During recent years much experimenting has been done toward the objective of securing wheat crops that are successfully resistant to the ravages of rust. Some real progress has been made and in some cases claims have been made that rust is not such a serious danger over a period. Some of the experimenters themselves have been disappointed after the growing tests of repeated seasons. The work is still progressing, however, and much hope is entertained that complete success will ultimately follow.

As a result of these activities there is an added interest in the report from Yorkton, Saskatchewan, of the experimenters carried on by a farmer of this district who in 1929 secured an ounce of wheat reported at that time to be rust resistant. This small sample was sown that year, and the yield amounted to a pound and a quarter. This was sown in the spring of 1929 and the yield amounted to one and a quarter bushels. This year the yield is reported to be approximately 20 bushels. The important feature of the report, however, is that "while the crops on both sides show evidence of damage from rust this experimental plot does not."

The originator of the sample sown, a man of considerable technical and practical experience, claims it to be practically "immune" from black stem or leaf rust, highly resistant to blight or smut, and highly resistant to heat and cold.

Whether these claims will bear up under the tests and conditions of the future, or whether these claims will be sustained in the long run, differences of climatic conditions, or for some other cause, the future alone can tell. One thing certain, the crops of rust and smut take an enormous toll from the producer of grain every season, and the best brains of experts are struggling with the problem. These conditions exist not only in Canada, but in many other countries as well, and it is hoped that the conference part of the program of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held in Regina in 1932 will be the medium through which the most varied experiences and the best thought of the most active experimenters and technical experts the world over, not only upon this matter but upon other matters as well, may be gathered together, discussed, and finally can be consolidated and given to growers of grain and seed in a form best suited to their needs for the improvement of crop production in all its phases. This is the thought behind the origin of this great undertaking for 1932, and evidences are ample to indicate that it merits the support of every citizen.

Essay on Scotland

Scotland is a brave new land on the north of England. It has water nearly all around it. It has a population of about four and a half million, including Mrs. Andrew Carnegie. It has a peculiar language of its own, and if one can pronounce it correctly it is an infallible test of sobriety. It possesses considerable mineral wealth, but little of it finds its way out of the country. Gold has at times been discovered in certain districts, as well as in the pockets of certain natives.

The best known experts are Harry Lander, Peter Fraser, and Scotty Mackenzie, though sufficient of the latter is retained in the country to satisfy the demands of home consumption.

The chief import in recent years is Winston Churchill.

The national dress of Scotland is the kilt, which is a kind of petticoat. In pattern it resembles a chess board, but in cold weather the wearer finds it more like a draft board. WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Forty nations have agreed to send delegates to the first International Air Security Congress in Paris, December 10 to 23.

The British Government has announced that the official British census of population taken every ten years, will be made on Sunday, April 24, next.

The prospect is held out that there may be a reduction in the Canadian tariff rate in the Canadian delinquency, maple sugar, before the spring begins to run next spring.

A woman, Miss J. R. Pender, Malden, England, has won the King's silver cup for the best cultivation of root crops, at the East Berkshire Agricultural Show for the first time in 90 years.

Felix Lojero, French flyer, who crashed up his plane, October 18, near Oriskany, Illinois, in an attempted flight from Paris to U.S. was arrested on charges of flying over Russia without a permit.

William Lajmolder, former member of the Manitoba legislature, is dead at his home in Lorette, Man. aged 71. He was a descendant of Marie Anne Gaboury, the first white woman in Western Canada.

Contracts have been awarded for the construction of a great bridge across the mighty Zambesi River in Nyasaland, and 25 miles of railway on the south bank, at a price of $6,975,000.

Protected By Imperial War Graves Commission

Famous Hill 60 Is Only 200 Yards In

Memories of the gallant deed of a European generation cut in its youth came flooding with mention in the news of Hill 60 in "what was once the Ypres salient." The mound, once nearly 100 feet high, was presented to the British nation by a citizen. Now, fifteen years after the prodigies of courage shown there by the contending armies, it is to be protected by the Imperial War Graves Commission. No parcel of land in the world is richer with the glory of the Empire. It is there anywhere "home corner of a foreign field that is for ever England," as Rupert Brooke said. It is this lump of earth which the bones of thousands of men of the North Sea strain lie molding.

The area of the hill so naively digested by the contending armies was only about 250 yards. On April 17, 1915, after bloody hand-to-hand fighting, the Germans gave ground and the British took the crest. Anxiously the Cabinet in London awaited the tidings, for, as the strategy of battle often determines, Hill 60 was one of those hand-spots, important in peace, which in war mean more than a walled town. British officers sat in their dugouts behind the line in suffocating quiet came into it: air candles were put out; it was the first experience with poison gas. For five days Germans and British bayoneted each other and fired field guns at pistol range, while from the rear the heavy artillery dropped great shells on the British front.

There still was a slackening of the German attack, and Hill 60, twice lost and again won, remained in British hands, remained in their possession.

After this experience both sides almost knew what they were in for. Talk in Berlin and in London about ending things quickly died away. The obvious fact was that on either side of the North Sea, who had not much chance to examine each other's fighting quality since Napoleon's battle of Waterloo, were to go on for three and a half years more. Before it was finished a general war, and every nation had tales to tell of blood and of forfeiture. But no other engagement of the war provided more of the fruits of the North Sea, that on the little heap of earth which was formed by cutting the Ypres-Lille railway—New York Times.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

FIVE O'CLOCK TEA RUSKS

- 2½ cups special cake flour, sifted.
- 4 teaspoons baking powder.
- 1½ teaspoon salt.
- 4 teaspoons cinnamon.
- 1½ teaspoon nutmeg.
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar.
- 2 tablespoons butter, or other shortening.
- 1 egg, well beaten.
- ½ cup milk or (about).

Rift and mix, measure, add baking powder, salt, spices, and brown sugar, and sift together three times. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and liquid, add flour gradually until stiff dough is formed. Turn on flour board. Cut in 1-inch pieces. Shape into balls. Press together in well-greased shallow pan. Brush with milk, sprinkle with additional brown sugar. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes two dozen small rusks.

MORCHA FUDGE

- 1½ cups granulated sugar.
- 1 cup milk (preferably part cream).
- 1 heaping tablespoon cocoa.
- 4 tablespoons brown beef or cream.
- Butter size of a walnut.
- Fruit of salt.

Melt cocoa, add milk and coffee and sugar, stir until sugar is thoroughly dissolved, place over heat and cook until it forms a soft ball of cold water. Remove from heat, add butter and salt, beat strongly until it turns into buttered pan or plate to get cold before cutting it in pieces. English walnuts may be added if desired.

Has Wonderful Influence

There will be hard times as long as people take hard times, says the Farmer's Advocate. Blue ruin and unemployment, conversation everywhere has the same effect as telling a sick woman how desperately ill she looks.

One plans to establish its first national park, for protection of plants and trees.

Relief Activities

Hon. Howard McConnell Reviews Relief Work in Saskatchewan Drought Areas

Details of relief activities in the dried-out areas of Saskatchewan undertaken by the Provincial Government and by the municipalities affected, and by the municipalities affected, are given in a statement issued for publication by Hon. Howard McConnell, Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Municipal Affairs in the Saskatchewan Government. The statement follows:

"In connection with relief given to farmers in the dried-out areas of our province last year, the Provincial Government distributed $191,000. This was made up as follows:

- 1.—Freight paid by province on fodder shipped to such areas $450,000.
- 2.—"Relief" roads built by province in such areas $350,000.
- 3.—Relief provided by Government for flour, fuel and fodder together with seed grain in Local Improvement Districts in such areas $110,000.

Total $910,000.

"The rural municipalities in such areas contributed $1,054,000 for the relief of farmers in such areas, particulars of which are as follows:

- 1.—Sum advanced by municipalities for seed grain within their borders for purchase of flour, fuel and fodder $1,150,000.
- 2.—Sum advanced by municipalities to farmers in such areas for seed grain $204,000.

Total $1,354,000.

"Urban municipalities received from the Government for unemployment relief, $60,000. The Provincial Government guaranteed the payment to the banks of all loans made by the banks to such municipalities to enable them to disburse such relief.

"This year again, the major portion of the municipalities suffering drought last year, are again experiencing adverse conditions. The position of a great many of the people residing in such areas is serious. The drought has not only come this year, but it is coming fall and winter. The Government is spending approximately $1,500,000 in relief road camps, between city and city such camps having been already established. Further, to assist many municipalities, the Government is advancing this year's municipal road grants. In some municipalities where the situation requires more extraordinary attention, but where road camps were not established, the Government is contributing to such municipalities an extra grant. The Government anticipates that such road camps do not completely solve the situation in these municipalities, but they do permit the residents in these areas to receive $1,500,000 on account of such road work. These camps will be continued until frost sets in, and in some cases, where conditions are adverse, the Government is not asking for any contributions from such municipalities to ward such road work.

"Further, to assist the farmers of these dried-out areas, the Government is again, this year, paying one-half of the freight on all fuel and fodder shipped into these areas by the railways, the railways paying the other half of the freight. The portion of such freight chargeable to the Government this year, will approximate $500,000.

"Requests have been made on behalf of a great many of the municipalities in the dried-out areas that the Government, with the assistance of the railways, supply coal free of all freight charges, to the residents of such dried-out areas. The Government approached the railways with a request that the railways absorb one-half of all the freight charges on such coal shipped to the dried-out areas for relief purposes, agreeing to pay the other half of such freight. The railways, however, were unable to agree to this proposal. The Government has decided, therefore, to assume one-half of all freight charges on coal mined in Saskatchewan and shipped to the rural municipalities in the dried-out areas, for their order, for relief purposes in such rural municipalities, this policy to take effect immediately.

"The expenditure incurred and to be incurred by the Government this year in granting relief to the residents of the dried-out areas, will approximate $2,500,000. The total amount is receiving from the Federal Treasury the sum of $500,000 for relief purposes in the dried-out areas. This $500,000, it may be seen, will only take care of a small portion of the money which the Government has spent last year in such areas, and for such relief in such areas.

"The Federal Government is further assisting Saskatchewan in the matter of unemployment by a further contribution of $1,000,000 to be

Railway Station At Naples Has

"Fine out of ten inventions these

And one that has just been put into service at the railway station at

Naples surely caps the list, for it is nothing more or less than a walking

From the telephone hangs a long rod of flex, which is quickly connected to a plug on the station wall. The telephone is then ready for use, and ment again proposes to continue to guarantee the banks against loss for loans made by them to the municipalities in districts where, on account of crop failures or other adverse conditions, such assistance is necessary. Further details in connection with the administration of relief will be worked out in due course.

"The Government wants to emphasize that all public works proposed by municipal authorities, must be planned to provide the maximum amount of employment with the minimum expenditure of materials on such works. It is also to be emphasized that this in mind cannot be entertained by the Government. It wishes to emphasize again, that the relief to be distributed is to be distributed only to those municipalities whose resources are insufficient to enable them to provide for their own unemployment. This is a fundamental principle laid down by the Federal Government and will not be departed from.

Return To Old Method

Manitoba Farmers Are Heading Their

Wheat To The Mills

Manitoba farmers are back to the grain-mills of a generation ago, and are hauling out to the mills

the mill instead of selling to agents of the larger milling interests.

In some areas, farmers are hauling their grain to the mill at Hinchelwood,

Somerset, Wawanesa and Morden.

For a bushel of No. 1 Northern—

60 pounds farmers receive

10 pounds of flour, 15 pounds of bran, and three pounds of shorts. The other two pounds are allowed for waste. The millers are giving in 20 cents per bushel. As in the old days, the farmers draw up their wagons and stand along discussing the topics of the day.

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

"Thank goodness, then, that you didn't discover us before!"

"It is so awful—kissing me!" asked Nick.

"It would be awful blessing you good-bye," answered his wife demurely.

"For that," he said, putting his arm about her, "you shall have another."

"Glad," he continued with mock severity, "we're downright silly. I wouldn't have believed we could be so. And I suppose your right."

They were spoken on Mr. Bartlett long enough, say, let's ask the old man up to supper. It would tickle him to death."

So Simon Bartlett was their first guest. He arrived panting, after the hard pull up the foot path that led from the wood road.

"I take this kindly, ma'am," he said, sinking down breathless on the porch, and mopping the dampness from his brow with a huge handkerchief. Although evening was approaching he carried his umbrella. Indeed, he seemed almost afraid to give it up when Gay offered to relieve him of it.

"Never travel without it, ma'am," he repeated. "Shouldn't hardly feel at home if it was to go. Well, well, this looks real cozy, don't it? Built this place for my old woman, ma'am, before I got so confounded feebly. Time was when I could come up the path without having an eyebash, same as Nick here. A good boy, Nick. You didn't make no mistake when you picked him out."

"She didn't do the picking," laughed Nick. "I picked her, and then didn't give her time to think about it."

"Well, well," chuckled the old man. "Just you take care that she don't regret it. By gorry! this ain't by any chance your honeymoon, is it?"

Gay blushed; but Nick only laughed at their guests' embarrassing interrogation.

"We hadn't been married ten minutes when you met us, Mr. Bartlett."

"In an instant the old man was serious."

"You ain't runnin' away from your folks, are you?" he asked soberly. "If you might say, 'always bettin' sure' of my old woman, and signat' the pledge at twelve year old. Do I smell chowder, ma'am?"

"That sounds," laughed Gay, "like a gentle hint for supper. Shall we have it here on the porch?"

"That, we can't see the face, ma'am. Me and my old woman used to eat here summer evenings. Sometimes the berries, though, would sing for us. We called 'em our orchestra; and a darn sight prettier music it was than what comes out of the brass band over to Melville Falls."

"We'll agree on that," said Nick. "They sang the night we came here. I told Gay it was a bridal chorus, sung specially for us."

"And I don't do it was, sonny," said the old man gently. "You run along now and help your missus deal up supper. You don't need to make company o' me; and I ain't one that'll ever a man's place is on the front porch while his wife is rattlin' with the kitchen stool or the dish pan."

"Now ain't I?" said Nick, rising to obey. "You can ask Gay if I'm not a champion dish-washer."

It was a festive little supper, and Simon Bartlett pronounced his hostess a "first class cook," a tribute that brought the happy color into Gay's face, and an proud light to her husband's eyes. Later, when the world was drenched in moonlight, they were away. Stay as long as ever you're a mind to, but not a minute longer. I know how 'tis. One I've got to remember, I'd almost say myself, but it's long years now since home seemed the best place of all. Gorry! if it went for all the things you've got to do, you'd be forgettin' the good advice I give you."

He chuckled, but Nick said soberly, "I've got to remember, I'd almost say myself, but it's long years now since home seemed the best place of all. Gorry! if it went for all the things you've got to do, you'd be forgettin' the good advice I give you."

"Nor shall I," Gay promised. "I'd take a gentle hand on the old man's."

"If I don't make Nick happy it won't be because I forgot your warnings and—I thank you."

"You're a good girl," he answered, patting her hand before releasing it. "You've given a lovely old man a happy evening."

"What a dear he is," said Gay, as they rode away. She felt suddenly reluctant to leave this kind old friend, standing alone before a house that had been his for so long.

Nick looked at her tenderly. "You're something of a dear yourself, I'm sure. I've got to remember, I'd almost say myself, but it's long years now since home seemed the best place of all. Gorry! if it went for all the things you've got to do, you'd be forgettin' the good advice I give you."

Fishermen See Strange Creature in Pacific

Was Twenty Feet Long and Looked Like Big Ape

Strange tales come out from the sea, but none stranger than the one told at Seattle by Captain A. M. Jangor.

A half-bait boat which declared an age-fished creature about 20 feet long reared up by his boat at Destruction Island, off the Washington coast, and blinked his eyes and then swam off. Destruction Island is about six miles southwest of the mouth of the Moh River.

Captain Jangor said he and his crew, Chris Nelson and Andrew Gies, of Tacoma, were pulling in their lines when the "mermaid" appeared. "He looked like a big ape and very old," the captain said.

"There was about four feet of him out of the water and he was about 20 feet in length. He was yellowish-brown and his ape-like head merged into the body for he had no shoulders."

Jangor is eager to learn if other fishermen have had a similar experience.

Active Prospecting Year

Valuable Mineral Discoveries Reported in Northern Alberta

The adjournment of prospecting operations in Northern Alberta is the first time in several years that the season will bring to a close one of the most active prospecting years of the province. Five major companies have carried on intensive exploration work with the use of airplanes and at considerable cost. Valuable mineral discoveries are reported to have been made and much valuable data secured.

The aeronauts who made the first free balloon ascent of man in 1783, carried a sponge and water and put out fires which several times caught the linen bag.

"Of course you can't," you've got me to face it with you! But, my dear old fellow, I thought it was to escape such things as problems that we came away. Anyhow, we won't face it till we're back at camp. I'm going to take you the long way round. It's a glorious right to ride."

It was so glorious that they forgot the flight of time. It was late when they reached the cabin, but despite the hour they sat down together on the porch, and Nick reached for his wife's hand, twisting the slender wedding ring around her finger.

"You've my mother," he said to her, haven't you? She told me to keep it till I found the one girl in the world. I used to find I'd never use it—or not for years and years. Now setting down for me! I was to be a vagabond, you know—traveler the world over. I was to be a kid! I'm a married man!"

He was laughing; but Gay said to him, "But—but I haven't you a kid, Nick. You're only twenty-one—it—it's that."

"You're a kid," said Nick, "I've forgotten the problem. Trot it out, young lady, and we'll go to it; though you've no moral right to produce the abominable thing on a quest for freedom."

Takes On New Job

Engineering Wizard Will Build Tunnel Under Mediterranean Sea.

Paul J. Morant, the man who put Wall Street on stilts and carved a half-mile ditch through the world's greatest cities, is now working on a tunneling the powder on a stenographic note, is seeking new holes to dig.

He looks forward to his next job—digging a railroad tunnel under the Mediterranean Sea to connect Spain with Morocco. The Spaniards Government has appointed him consulting engineer for the project and he will leave soon to make borings of Gibraltar.

Morant's task of constructing a subway excavation to link the lines of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit System is practically completed.

In executing a job that experts said could not be done without suspending operations on the markets, Morant jacked-up 35 skyscrapers; shifted a solid mass of electric conduits, gas, water and steam pipes; removed a brick sewer; sank his supports in quicksand; dumped tons of earth on the streets of New York, and fought every step of the way against dense traffic and swarms of pedestrians on the narrow streets of the city.

Every tempting—even to the offer of the rose-colored marble tomb, which would appeal to the Japanese rather than to the British mentality.

BIRTHS

The following births are recorded at the Bassano Hospital.

A daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Fraser, of Hussar, on Saturday, Oct. 25.

A daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Krause, of Rosemary, on Monday, Oct. 27.

A daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Schellenberg, of Rosemary, on Oct. 30.

A daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McNutt, of Bassano, on Thursday, Oct. 30.

In reporting last week the winners of the governor-general's medal for grade 8 departmental examinations we failed to include the names of Sally Ross, who won the medal in 1929, and Vera Herron, who was winner in 1918. These are all the names of which we have record.

School Inspector J. F. Horcoe is inspecting schools in the Milo district this week.

Sergeant and Mrs. J. Burroughs, of Calgary, were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Glass on Sunday.

Tom Haney, of Barons, well known in this district, died Monday night, Oct. 27. Mr. L. B. Cyr, of Dorothy, sister of the late Mr. Haney, was suddenly called to Barons on hearing of the death of her brother.

Mr. and Mrs. John Darr enjoyed a visit from their daughter Isabel, of Calgary, over the week-end.

TOLERATION TOWARD THE POOL

Hon. Lt. Col. J. H. Woods, of Calgary, retiring president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in the course of an address delivered at Toronto, made the following statement:

"I do not hesitate to speak to you about the pool system of marketing. I have my brief for the pool, nor any excuse or explanation to offer for any errors that it may or may not have made. Concerning these, I am not sufficiently expert to be judge, but I am firm conviction that the wheat pool is the greatest stabilizer of the markets of the farmers of the west that exists today.

"To it in great measure these farmers have pinned their confidence and their pride in the security of their own destiny, and in my belief, the destruction of that confidence, the lowering of that pride, the psychological results that would inevitably follow upon an abandonment or even a partial abandonment of that system they themselves have created would be an injury almost beyond calculation.

"My information from home is that the membership of the wheat pool has never been more loyal to it than today, in these conditions of strain. Boasting of wheat there always has been, and will be, but none today more than in the days of high prices and easy markets. It takes have doubtless been made. Whoever heard of so vast an enterprise being created and conducted without misdeeds?

"Faction these references to what might be considered a controversial subject, but my appeal is psychological rather than material. We are not apt to criticize one another to the extent of condemnation for errors that are no greater than we commit ourselves. And therefore I urge that we extend in greater measure charity of thought and tolerance of judgment to one another in all branches of our commercial and financial lives, and look forward to the future that lies before us rather than turn our faces to the troubles that lie behind."

Pit: "Why the rope around the finger?"

Mac: "My wife put it there so I'd remember to mail a letter."

Pit: "Did you mail it?"

Mac: "No. She forgot to give it to me."

"Do you mean to say," asked the magistrate, "that such a physical wreck as your husband gave you that black eye?"

The woman smiled proudly. "It wasn't a physical wreck, your worship," she said, "it'll be gone that black eye."
